

Columbia Data Center

Overview

Columbia Data Center is Microsoft's data center in Quincy, Washington. Property at Quincy was purchased in 2006; the building opened in April, 2007; and the data center reached operational status in May, 2007. The team's main areas of responsibility include managing rack space, power, cooling and tracking energy usage. The Columbia County Chamber of Commerce is a member-driven and business focused organization advocating for economic growth in the Greater Augusta area. Our work is to ignite regional prosperity as the driving force for growth through connected communities, empowered businesses, and lasting impact. The gross building size for this location has not been provided.
