

Indian Explosion-proof Distribution Box

Article Overview

Explosion-proof distribution boxes in India are engineered to safely distribute electricity in hazardous areas, preventing sparks or heat from igniting flammable gases, vapors, or dust.

Overview

An Ex-Proof Distribution Board, also called an Explosion-Proof Power Distribution Board, is designed for environments where flammable substances are present. These boards contain electrical energy safely within a flameproof or increased-safety enclosure, ensuring that any internal sparks, arcs, or heat do not ignite the surrounding atmosphere. They are suitable for Zone 1 and Zone 2 hazardous locations, commonly found in oil refineries, chemical plants, offshore platforms, and fuel storage facilities .

Key Features

- Material and Construction: Typically made from stainless steel (SS304, SS316), mild steel, or cast aluminum alloy (LM6), with welded or riveted construction for durability .
- Protection Ratings: IP66 or higher, ensuring resistance to dust, water, and harsh environmental conditions .
- Temperature Range: Service temperature ranges from -50°C to +140°C, depending on the enclosure material and design .
- Safety Mechanisms: Flame paths and pressure-resistant housings prevent ignition of external gases. Silicone gaskets and quarter-turn locks enhance sealing and safe...
