

Price of In-Home Power Distribution Box

Article Overview

Adding a power distribution box to a home typically costs between $1,200 and $6,000, depending on panel type, amperage, and installation complexity, which can influence the overall house price.

Cost of a Distribution Box

A residential distribution box or breaker panel serves as the central hub for electricity, distributing power safely to all circuits in a home . The cost depends on several factors:

- Amperage and panel size: Standard 100-125A indoor panels cost around $1,200-$2,500, while 200A outdoor panels with meter sockets can reach $3,000-$6,000 .
- Installation complexity: Labor ranges from 6-18 hours at $75-$120 per hour, with additional costs for rewiring, conduit rerouting, or structural modifications .
- Location and permits: Urban areas or regions with higher permit fees may increase costs by 5-15% compared to national averages .

Impact on House Price

While the distribution box itself is a relatively small portion of a home's total value, having a modern, code-compliant electrical panel can:

- Increase buyer confidence: Homes with updated electrical systems are safer and may attract higher offers....
