

Price quote for high-quality electrical distribution boxes in China and Africa

Article Overview

Electrical distribution boxes in China typically range from $10 to $200 per unit depending on specifications, while African prices vary widely due to import costs, local suppliers, and shipping.

Pricing in China

In China, the cost of electrical distribution boxes depends on material, size, IP rating, and customization. Standard plastic or metal boxes for residential or commercial use can start around $10-$30 per unit, while industrial-grade or IP65 waterproof enclosures can range from $50 to $200 per unit . Bulk orders often reduce per-unit costs, and OEM customization (logo embossing, busbar modifications, or special cable entry) can increase the price . Leading Chinese suppliers offer fast shipping for stock items, but custom production may take longer .

Pricing in Africa

In Africa, prices are generally higher due to import duties, shipping, and limited local manufacturing. For example, imported Chinese distribution boxes may cost 20-50% more than their factory price in China. Local suppliers may offer lower-cost options, but these often have lower IP ratings or fewer certifications. Industrial or outdoor enclosures with high IP ratings (IP55-IP65) suitable for harsh environments are typically priced between $80 and $250 per unit, depending on size and features
