

Supplier of explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes in Greece

Article Overview

Array Trading and ProAct are key suppliers of ATEX-certified explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes in Greece.

Array Trading

Array Trading specializes in supplying explosion-proof electrical equipment suitable for hazardous areas where flammable gases or dust are present, such as refineries, chemical industries, and pharmaceutical facilities . They cooperate with leading European manufacturers to provide ATEX-certified products for Zones 1, 2, 21, and 22. Their offerings include junction boxes, enclosures, and complete Ex product packages, with high-quality materials and corrosion-resistant finishes. For example, the NEXT enclosure series is made of electro-polished stainless steel, available in multiple sizes, and designed for aggressive industrial environments . Website: Array Trading

ProAct

ProAct provides explosion protection services and ATEX compliance support in Greece . While they focus on certification, inspections, and risk assessments, they also guide manufacturers and distributors in selecting and installing Ex electrical equipment according to IEC and ATEX standards. This makes them a valuable partner if you need both equipment and compliance support for hazardous installations. Website: ProAct...
