

Supply of explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes in Egypt

Article Overview

Explosion-proof electrical distribution boxes are available in Egypt from certified suppliers such as WIACS, Electech, Schneider Electric, and Giants Security, all offering ATEX/IECEx-compliant solutions for hazardous environments.

Key Suppliers and Offerings

WIACS provides a wide range of explosion-proof electrical equipment in Egypt, including distribution boxes, switches, and lighting solutions. Their products are compliant with ATEX and IECEx standards, suitable for oil and gas, petrochemical, and other hazardous industries, ensuring safety in explosive atmospheres. Electech is a reputable electromechanical supplier in Egypt, serving the oil and gas sector since 2000. They offer industrial electrical solutions, including explosion-proof enclosures and distribution systems, tailored for high-risk environments. Schneider Electric Egypt offers ATEX-certified enclosures for wall-mounting, available in steel, stainless steel, and polyester. These enclosures are designed for zones with occasional or rare explosion risks (ATEX II2/II3) and can be integrated with other certified electrical, pneumatic, or hydraulic components to form complete explosion-proof systems. Giants Security Egypt provides a comprehensive range of explosion-proof products, including distribution boxes, switches, plugs, motors, and lighting. They have experience in gas drilling, gas stations, and operational facilities, ensuring professional and safe installation in demanding environments.
